Prison Register and the "Crimes" For Which Their Owners Were Incarcerated. The Rules of the Piace. In England the student's body is com-

Some of the Names Which Adorn the mitted to prison only by the civil authority. In Oxford, it is true, the vice chancellor deals with undergraduate naughtiness, principally in the form of debt and insubordination, for which he he does not deprive the defaulter of libcrty. There is, or was, a legend that a tertain apartment under the old Clarencon building was really the university 'quod," but for its authenticity it is a snare to the more male undergrad. There, if we except the irksome penalty of "gating" (confinement to college or lodgings after a stated hour), our academic efforts at incarceration may be said to end.

In Germany, however, the academic dungeon is a very stern fact. The Heidelberg "carcer" is famous. Every reader of Mark Twain will recall his entertaining description of the place and how he contrived to visit it, even unwittingly enlisting as his guide a "Herr Professor." His pretext was to see a young friend who had "got" 24 hours and had conveniently arranged the day to suit Mark-for the German student convict goes to prison on the first suitable day after conviction and sentence. If Thursday is not convenient, he tells the officer sent to hale him to jail that he will come on Friday or Saturday or Sunday, as the case may be. The officer never doubts his word, and it is never broken.

The prison is up three flights of stairs, and is approached by a "zugang" as richly decorated with the art work of convicts as the cell itself. The apartment is not roomy, but bigger than an ordinary prison cell. It has an iron grated window, a small stove, two wooden chairs, two old oak tables and a narrow wooden bedstead.

The furniture is profusely ornament-ed with carving, the work of languishing captives, who have placed on record their names, armorial bearings, their crimes and the dates of their imprisonment, together with quaint warnings and denunciations. Walls and ceilings are covered with portraits and legends executed in colored chalk and in soot the prison candle forming a handy pencil. Some of the inscriptions are pathetic. One runs, "E. Glinicke, four days for being too eager a spectator of a row." If four days were meted out to a mere spectator, what, one wonders, had been the sontence of the participators? It must have been a moving spec-

Another record (also quoted by Mr. Clemens) has the savor of a great name to it. Of course it is the son that is meant, not the father The legend is, 'F. Graf Bismarck, 27-29 II. '74.' This Mark Twain interprets as a record of two days' durance vile for Count Bismarck in 1874. Had 1874 been leap een inclined to year one might have interpret the numeral "II" as February But the "29" makes this difficult. So perhaps the humorist is right.

A third specimen is too tragic for comment. It simply says, "R. Diergandt —tor love—four days." Ungenerous successors to that sad chamber have dealt harshly with their forcrunners' reputations by ingenious substitution of heinous crimes, so that certain prisoners go down to posterity as having been punished for their and murder

The prisoner must supply his own bedding and is subject to various charges. On entering he pays about tenpenco, and on leaving a similar sum / day in prison costs sixpence; fire and light sixpence extra. The jailer supplies coffee for a trifle. Meals may be ordered from outside. Every prisoner leaves his carte do visite, which is fixed with a multitude of others on the door of the cell. This queer album is glazed to protect the photographs.

prehend a student, the captive shows his matriculation card. He is then asked for his address and set free here. hear more of the matter, for the civil authority reports him to the university The Oxford regulation, by the way, is in certain cases almost identical In Heidelberg the university court try and pass sentence, the civil power taking no further concern with the offense. The trial is very often conducted in the prisoner's absence, and he, poor wight, may have forgotten all about his peccadille until the university constable appears to conduct him to prison. But thither, seeing he may choose his day, he always repairs cheerfully.-London Sketch.

How We Use Our Lives.

If you are fond of such statistics, read this table, drawn up by Gabriel Poignot: A man of 50 years, of ordinary health, of active life, of regular habit, comfortable in all circumstances of money, should give out of 18,250 days 6,082 days to sleep, 550 to sickness, 1,522 to his meals, 5,532 to work, 671 to exercise, to sports, the hunt, travel 3,803 days, and he should have consumed 27,080 pounds of bread, 6,080 of meat, 4,675 of vegetables, eggs and fruit, 31, 180 liters of wine, spirits and water.—Boston Journal.

WHITE PINE Wm. Burke, Shellbourne The Trans-Mississippi and International Congress is composed of delegates from every State and Territory West of the Mississippi river. The idea of this exposition originated in that Congress at its session at Omaha in 1895, and the project has become a National enterprise and the National Commission bas tion organized and is in active service, there being one commissioner for each of the several departments of the Government. Most of the Trans-Mississippi States are well along in the way of gathering exhibits from their respective States and many of them have made liberal appropriations, while others are preparing exhibits through private enterprise.

Vice-President H. B. Maxson of Reno, has made arrangements whereby he can get Navada exhibite, shipped from any point in the State along the line of the C. P. R. R., to Omaha and return, and he requests all persons who wish the interests of the State advertised, to co-operate with the Expecition County Commissioner of his county, whose name is shown above, and pres pare some product of his county and send it to the nearest point on the C. P R. R. from which place it will be sent to Omaha and exhitited, and retu ed to the same point at the close of the exposition, free of expense to the exhibitor sending anything to the line of the railroad a full description should be given

SPANIARDS LAY DOWN THEIR ARMS

The Spanish troops at Santiago de Oubs, marched out of the city, stacker their arms and surrendered. Tho: sands of those troops had not been engaged in battle with American solelers, but the commanding officer saw that resistance was suicidal, as they were short of rations and ammunition and they made the best terms possible.

The Spanish troops are to be transported as soon as possible to their na tive land, the American vessels which are to carry them being guaranteed protection in Spanish ports. The volunteers and guerillas, who surrendered are to be permitted to remain in Cubs on parole.

Spain is in imminent danger of au insurrection. The Carlists are taking advantage of the reverses suffered by the Spanish forces to create dissensions among the people, and the Government needs troops at home at the present time more than it does in Cubs. The troops may be able to suppress an insurrection in Spain, which would end the ruling dynasty, but they cannot prevent the acquisition of Cuba by the United States. No doubt Captait-General Bianco and his forces at Havens would be glad to capitulate on the terms given to General Toral, but the United States, just at present; have not enough available vessels to take 100,000 soldiers across the Atlantio. The Spaniards will have to evacuate Havana and furnish ships and ratique for the troops to old Spain.

WHY NOT DENOUNCE THE EAST

James J. Corbett and "Kid" McCoy have signed arricles of agreement to mange to get his troops started. fight for a purse of $20,000. The contest is to take plac at Buffalo, New York, on September 10th.

If the fight was to take place in the wild and wooly west, a general how! Ismpa yesterday to present Admiral would be heard from the pulpit, the Cervera with a home on Tampa bay in press and the public, but as it is to resognition of his humane and chivalcome off in the enlightened east, there rous treatment of Lieutenant Hobson is no serious objection to the affair and a desire to save him from insult from any source.

It appears that it is not prizefighting that offends the sensibilities of many people, but the place where the flubis take place. When the Corbett Fitzare more savage for allowing Corbett and Firzaimmons to test their skill etrength and endurance in this State, than the people of New York, Philadelphia, Buffalo, or even cultured Boston, who permit similar contests within a stone's throw of their police headquarters? Yet we of Nevada have been represented as being little more civilized that Apaches, because one fight took place in the State, while dozens of prizeflights in eastern cities cause NOTICE OF little if any adverse comment,
